

Michigan's premier motorcoach connection between East Lansing, Whitmore Lake, Ann Arbor & Detroit Metro Airport.

Check Out Michigan Flyer's Expanded New Schedule!

You asked for it. Now we're delivering.

Last December, we surveyed riders to find out, among other things, how we could improve their passenger experience. Their overwhelming answer was to expand our schedule to offer more frequent runs between East Lansing, Whitmore Lake*, Ann Arbor and Detroit Metro Airport.

So, starting on Aug. 25, Michigan Flyer will expand to 14 daily roundtrips. You can view our current and new schedules here.

Most notably, our last daily westbound run from Detroit Metro Airport (DTW) will be an hour later than now. It will depart the Evans Terminal at 10:45 p.m. and the McNamara Terminal at 11:00 p.m. This will give many travelers the option of reserving flights that arrive at DTW later in the evening and are often less costly than earlier flights.

The new runs are available for advance booking NOW through the "Book a Trip" feature on our website at MichiganFlyer.com.

*PLEASE NOTE: To more accurately describe the location of boarding points along our route—and to avoid causing confusion among passengers—we've replaced Brighton with Whitmore Lake. That's our actual stop, and it's about eight miles south of Brighton. Specifically, our location is at the MDOT Park & Ride lot off Exit 53 of U.S. 23 at Whitmore Lake Rd. and 8 Mile Rd. From there, of course, Michigan Flyer continues to serve the people of Brighton and other communities throughout Livingston County.

Connections” Contest Winner of 2025

Our latest essay contest asked folks to tell us a great—and true—story about how Michigan Flyer helped to connect them with a special person, place, or adventure dear to their heart. It features a $500 gift card Top Prize and five $100 gift card runner-up prizes. Our judges—Michigan Flyer staff and creative consultants—selected this year’s winners based on which essays best fit the contest theme. (Note that each winner is notified in the month their entry is to be published.)

We’re happy to announce that the first of our five runner-up winners is Patricia “Tish” Majot of Barefoot Bay, Fla.

Tish and Richard making dill pickle soup

When Tish got our call earlier this month, she was happily surprised: “I had just been thinking about the contest a couple of days before, so my reaction was ‘Wow!’” Her entry recalls when she first met her friend, Richard, more than a decade ago in Florida, and how much fun they’ve been having ever since. It was Richard who invited Tish to visit him in Michigan, where he lives near Brighton. “He suggested that I book the Michigan Flyer from Detroit Metro Airport because he’d heard good things about the service,” Tish says.

And so she did back then and does now on a regular basis: “It’s reliable, very comfortable, and has very good drivers. I always feel very safe on the Flyer.”

Tish remembers the spark she felt when she first met her “guy friend” Richard. “We shared similar interests,” she says. “Neither of us are highfalutin. We’re just down-to-earth people.” When they’re in Michigan, they love spending time going to the movies, golfing, fishing, and kayaking. “We have good times together,” she says.

What will Tish do with her $100 gift card? She’s not sure yet but says it’s possible she’ll be boosting sales in a gift shop on her way back to Florida. Here’s her winning story:

When Life Surprises You

By Tish Majot

"Born and raised in rural Pennsylvania, I retired in 2004 after working 44 years in office environments. My husband passed away in 2005 after 45 years of marriage. I had relatives in Florida on the east coast, so in 2013 I decided to move to Florida permanently. I met some ladies and became great friends. One of the ladies said I had to meet a guy friend of hers from Michigan and I was reluctant as I did not want to get involved with anyone. She invited me to her house for dinner and did not tell me her guy friend would be there with another couple from Michigan.

"Well, we became friends—dinner dates, boat rides, beach days, etc. He invited me to Brighton, Mich., to visit and of course I was excited to go. Flew from Melbourne, Fla., to Detroit, and then he suggested I take the Michigan Flyer to the parking lot in Brighton where he would pick me up. I did that and have been doing the same route (to and from) every year. Each bus trip is enjoyable with no problems. To this day we are still meeting in Michigan for the summer, and then winter in Florida. I must say though, being in our mid-80s has not stopped us from enjoying life. Thank you, Michigan Flyer, for making these visits possible."

High Marks to DAX

The Detroit Air Xpress—or DAX for short—is the pilot express bus service that connects Downtown Detroit to Detroit Metro Airport (DTW). This past March marked its first anniversary. DAX was created by the Regional Transit Authority of Southeast Michigan (RTA) and is operated by Indian Trails and Michigan Flyer. It's a pilot service funded by a $2.5 million grant through the Federal Highway Administration's Carbon Reduction Program.

Last month, we reported some of the responses we received from the recent DAX ridership survey. Now, more responses are in, and the good news continues:

- 99% of riders say they got to their stop on time
- 99% of riders are satisfied with the cleanliness of the bus
- 61% of riders would use a rideshare if DAX didn't exist, meaning they're saving a lot of money

In short, DAX riders love the comfort, cleanliness, timeliness, and overall experience of the service.

Travel Alerts

Checked Bags Don't Fly for Free Anymore

Earlier this year, the Money website reported that Southwest Airlines—which had not charged passengers for the first two checked bags since it was founded nearly 60 years ago—would begin imposing luggage fees in May. As a result, every U.S. airline now charges passengers for checked bags. Depending on the carrier, baggage fees reportedly make up between 3 percent and 21 percent of revenue.

We can't fault the airlines for doing what they must to make a go of it. Every industry faces its own imperatives for economic survival.

The Michigan Flyer Difference

Still, we'd like to take this opportunity to point out Michigan Flyer charges NO FEES for:

- Checked luggage (two bags plus a carry-on are free)
- Seat assignments (we have open seating)
- Changing your reservations (whether online, by phone or in person)

Also worth noting: For 10 years running we've offered covered parking for just $2.50 per day in the ramp connected by a bridge walk to our location at the East Lansing Marriott.

And when you need assistance during office hours, you can still talk with or email one of our live, professional, customer service agents—not an AI machine.

Students.

If you're planning to ride with us between mid-August and Labor Day, it would be wise to reserve your seat soon. That's because college students will once again flood into East Lansing and Ann Arbor—and many will be using Michigan Flyer.

Because classes begin on Monday, Aug.25, Michigan State University and the University of Michigan will each be welcoming back more than 50,000 undergraduate and graduate students, plus upwards of 15,000 faculty and staff members. Worth noting: This influx gives our mid-Michigan economy an estimated $2 billion boost.

Thrills

plus things to see and do, dining experiences, public transit and more, have made this a must-visit destination. Which is why Travel & Leisure recently named Detroit one of the top places to go for big-city thrills.

But first, two fun facts: (1) Detroit was dubbed the “Motor City” in the early 1900s when the “Big Three” automakers emerged there—Ford, General Motors, and Chrysler; (2) During Prohibition—codified in the U.S. Constitution in 1920 and repealed in 1933—an estimated 70 percent of illegal alcohol came into the United States through Detroit.

Bloody Work: Lexington and Concord 1775

Serious history buffs are in for a real treat. In recognition of the upcoming 250th anniversary of the American Revolution, this exhibit at U-M's William L. Clements Library explores the early months of 1775 in Massachusetts, the battles of Lexington and Concord, and related events that ignited the nearly eight-year war between the British Empire and the American colonies.

Visitors have the opportunity to see original historical manuscripts, letters, documents, newspapers, and artwork that reveal aspects of the bloody work of the Empire and various individuals. Among the items on display are British General Thomas Gage's draft orders for the Concord Expedition; a bundle of letters collected by former Sons of Liberty supporter Dr. Benjamin Church, which he secretly turned over to British Army intelligence; letters by Silas Deane, John Hancock, and Rachel Revere; and much more.

The exhibit is free and open to the public Monday-Friday, Noon-4 p.m., until Sept. 19. It's about a half-mile walk from Michigan Flyer's location at the Blake Transit Center to the Clements Library at 909 S. University Ave. Or, you can view much of the exhibit online. Also, you could sign up for a one-hour guided tour of all of the library's collections.

“Michigan Flyer is the only transportation we use when we fly out of the Detroit Metro Airport. We are constantly talking with friends and family about this service. Michigan Flyer is amazing!”

— LeeAnn A., Okemos, Mich.

Using Skyscanner.com, we spot-checked prices for domestic roundtrips originating at Detroit Metro Airport (DTW) on Friday, Oct. 10, and returning on Sunday, Oct. 19. Among our search criteria: Flights had to be nonstop in each direction, and the return flight had to arrive at DTW in time for passengers to catch our last run at 10:45 p.m. or 11:00 p.m. to Ann Arbor, Whitmore Lake, and East Lansing.

NOTE: You may well find different fares for nearly the same roundtrips on Expedia, Kayak, or Orbitz—or by buying tickets directly from a carrier like Delta Air Lines. Lower prices than these are surely available for anyone who’s flexible about the dates of travel, or willing to change planes once or more enroute to their destination. Our sample economy roundtrip fares include taxes but not necessarily baggage or other “extras.”
